

Grade 7 AVID EOC Study Questions

- Differentiate between the three basic learning styles (auditory, visual, and kinesthetic).
- Understand how to calculate grade point average and set academic goals. Understand how to set and monitor goals for success.
- Understand how to analyze grade reports to create a study/action plan for continued academic improvement.
- Be able to identify and apply terminology associated with public speaking.
- Understand the dynamics and purpose of nonverbal communication when speaking (e.g. use of body language and eye contact).
- Understand how to use graphic organizers and quick writes to prepare for writing assignments.
- Understand how to analyze prompts in order to effectively respond to writing assignments.

- How to apply editing marks during the editing process.
- Know how to use rubrics to self-evaluate and peer evaluate work
- Develop a clear thesis for expository writing.
- Effectively use pronouns in writing.
- Know how to use proper capitalization in writing.
- Know the difference between a summary and a reflection.
- Be able to correctly apply multiple reading strategies including, but not limited to, Marking the Text and annotating text to better understand text while reading.
- , Be able to understand and apply Costa's Levels of Thinking and/or Bloom's Taxonomy, as well as recognize the differences between levels.
- Understand and utilize the Ten Steps in the Tutorial Process.

- Understand the roles of all participants in academic tutorials.
- Be able to accurately complete the Tutorial Request Form.
- Understand the collaborative processes of team building and working in collaborative groups to problem solve.
- Understand how to utilize and apply communication skills during collaborative activities.
- Understand how to utilize an assignment log or calendar to complete assignments and projects on time and monitor grades.
- Understand the steps and components of the Cornell Way note taking process.
- Know how to use abbreviations and identify important points in the right column of Cornell notes.

- Understand the value of a college education.
- Be able to identify and apply college vocabulary.
- Understand how to research various careers or be able to compare salaries and job qualifications.